Blevins Dairy Calf Show Need County-Wide Program

Blevins had a commendable dairy show last Wednesday when 27 farm boys exhibited prize animals at the first County Dairy Calf Exhibit. The show was sponsored by the Hempstead County 4-H clubs, the Blevins FFA unit, and the Hempstead County Farm Bureau, the premiums being awarded by Lee Garland, secretary of the latter organization. The Blevins show points in the direction all Hempstead county should be traveling.

Today there is a very considerable dairy and beef herd development throughout the county, but it lacks sustained public effort here in Hope, which once helped start the livestock movement.

Governor's Race Opened by Adkins in 7-Point Speech

Ex - Internal Revenue Head Inaugurates Campaign

HE FLAYS BAILEY

Hits Refunding Pro- cedure — State Em- ploye "Shakedown"

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark.—(P)—Sharply criticizing many features of Gov. Carl E. Bailey's administration, Homer Adkins, former U. S. internal revenue collector for Arkansas, Friday offered the voters a seven-point platform on which he will seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination at the August primaries.

Adkins outlined his campaign in an opening speech at Russellville Thursday night. None of the three other candidates—Governor Bailey, J. Ross Venable of Little Rock and Frank Witte of Magnolia—have opened their drives formally.

Adkins' 7 Pledges
The former revenue collector delt in detail with 19 subjects, offering the following major pledges:

Homer Adkins

1. Development of natural resources through full cooperation with federal agencies.
 2. Revision of school administration with salary guarantees for teachers.
 3. Refunding of the state's high-way bond debt by issuance of low-interest callable bonds and consequent increased road building.
 4. Establishment of the state police as a non-political, constitutional unit of government.
 5. Wider development of the state's agricultural program through closer cooperation with federal agencies.
 6. Selection of professionally trained executives and employees for the state's eleemosynary institutions.
 7. Increase of old age pensions through larger federal grants and more efficient state tax collections.
- Adkins bitterly assailed what he termed the "shakedown" system among state employees and declared, if elected, he would seek enactment of a law "which will kill this 'shakedown' system at its root and which will prevent any candidate for governor from forcing state employees to contribute to campaign funds."

Plays Politics

In that connection, he also declared he would "urge passage of a measure which will make it impossible for the welfare and health departments of the state, as well as their clients, to be used as political footballs. Those who have become pensioners or clients of these departments must be guaranteed their God-given right to think, to

British Ridicule German Claims of Huge Ship Losses

Only Fourth of 4,329-213 Tons Claimed
Actually Sunk

BOMBERS DOWNED

Eight Destroyed by English — 10 Die in Scottish Town

LONDON —(P)—An authoritative British source declared the figure of 4,329 tons of British shipping Germany Friday claimed she had sunk since the beginning of the war actually was more than four times the total of British losses up to July 1.

British sources also declared the "wild claims made in an Italian communique Friday regarding attacks on the British fleet in the eastern Mediterranean were untrue."

By the Associated Press
Swift rising British Spitfires slashed back at German bombers over the island kingdom Friday, shooting down eight of raiders in flames, after King George the 6th narrowly escaped a heavy Nazi attack.

In a Scottish town, one bomb killed 10 persons "as far as known." Many others were wounded. A German invader was shot down and its crew perished as the bullet-sieved plane crashed and burst afire.

The German high command in a communique telling of heavy new damage inflicted on British airports, harbors and armament plants, asserted 4,329 tons of "enemy merchant shipping or shipping usable by the enemy" had been sunk since the war began.

Nazi fighting planes and Stuka dive-bombers sank five ships totalling 30,000 tons in the English Channel Thursday, the high command reported.

King George escaped possible harm from the German raiders by a matter of minutes, it was disclosed. The sovereign was reported visiting troops "somewhere in southern England" at the time of the German bomb assault.

Britain Recognizes Ethiopia
LONDON —(P)—Great Britain has decided to recognize the government of Emperor Haile Selassie "as the lawful government of Ethiopia," R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, informed the Commons Friday.

This will be a direct reversal of Britain's action on November 16, 1938, in formally recognizing Italian sovereignty over conquered Ethiopia.

Italians Bomb British
ROME —(P)—Italian warplanes set the British aircraft carrier on fire and seriously damaged two destroyers Thursday in the four-day-old Mediterranean air and naval battle, the high command reported Friday.

Declaring the engagement which began July 8 "not yet finally ended," the communique described Italian air and naval forces as attacking a British squadron of two battleships, an aircraft carrier and smaller vessels conveying five large freighters in the Malta region. It was reported one freighter was sunk.

Tenant Purchase Loans Available

Hempstead Farmers Have Opportunity to Buy Land

Hempstead county has been redesignated by Secretary Wallace as a Tenant Purchase County for 1940-41, HUDSON Wren, State Farm Security Administration director announced today.

"This action means that a number of deserving and worthy farm tenants, sharecroppers or farm laborers in Hempstead county will have an opportunity to purchase a family-sized farm under the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act."

"We want to urge all eligible families who are interested to file their application immediately with W. M. Sparks, FSA Supervisor so that the program can be started immediately. To be eligible an applicant must be a farm tenant, sharecropper, farm laborer or must obtain, or recently have obtained most of his income from farming," said Mr. Wren, state director.

Last year, six loans were made to families to purchase family-sized farms in Hempstead county.

Roosevelt Rated 2-to-1 Shot for 1st Ballot Victory

Hull Considered Likely
Choice as Running-Mate

FD STILL SILENT

Reports Persist Coalition
Cabinet Means
No 3d Term

BULLETIN
CHICAGO —(P)—The Democratic National Committee after a stiff fight between Northern and Southern states Friday adopted a compromise delegate "bonus" plan granting an additional delegate-at-large to future national conventions to each state casting a majority for the party's presidential nominee.

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
AP Feature Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Roosevelt a 2-to-1 shot to head the ticket, with nomination on the first ballot probably by acclamation.

If Roosevelt doesn't run, then a nominee suggested by him, Cordell Hull, the most likely choice.

That's a nutshell preview by neutral political experts of the Democratic presidential situation on the eve of the national convention which opens at Chicago Monday, July 15.

A size-up of the vice presidential picture by the same experts. Roosevelt, as the candidate, would pick his running mate. Leading prospects are Hull, Senator James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Indiana's Paul V. McNutt, Supreme Court Justice Douglas and Missouri's Governor Stark. If Hull is the presidential nominee, Farley is a good bet for the vice presidential nomination.

Straws in the Wind
A majority of the observers believe that because of the European situation, President Roosevelt made up his mind some time ago to accept a third term "draft." Three things now bolster that belief:

1. Roosevelt's withdrawal at so late a stage would throw the Democratic campaign machinery out of gear.
2. His failure to single out any candidate—or potential candidate—for a buildup in public opinion as his successor.
3. The widespread belief among politicians that the President perhaps is the only Democrat who could beat Republican standard bearer Wendell Willkie.

On the other hand, several political wisecracks "signs" that Mr. Roosevelt is going to surprise the country by declining the nomination. These include:

1. Persistent reports that he has on several occasions told friends privately he did not want to run again.
2. His naming of prominent Republicans Henry Stimson and Frank Knox as cabinet officers was a move for national unity on defense which he realized might be impaired by a third-term candidacy.
3. The belief that he planned to run only in the event the Republican presidential nominee was a man not fully alert to the dangers of the international situation.

Secretary Hull long has been rated the leading Roosevelt "choice" for the presidency if he himself didn't run. Reason: Hull knows foreign affairs and is most acceptable potential candidate to all factions of the party.

Hull also has the high esteem of the politically powerful national Chairman Jim Farley and is regarded as least vulnerable of the "leading possibilities" to Republican attack.

Garner, McNutt and Farley, erstwhile formidable candidates, are regarded as long shots at best. Senator Wheeler's sharp criticism of the administration's foreign policy is believed to have removed him from the Democratic presidential (and vice presidential) picture. Observers count Wheeler out because of assumed Roosevelt opposition to his being on the Democratic ticket.

Hull For Two Reasons
Hull is a leading vice presidential prospect for much the same reason he's a likely presidential choice if Roosevelt is out of it. Byrnes is a possible Roosevelt running mate because he has been a liaison officer between the White House and the senate, is on good terms with all party factions and has speaking punch for a campaign.

A Roosevelt-McNutt ticket would be a customary East-West combination. McNutt has been loyal to the New Deal, is a World War veteran, has imposing platform appearance, speaking ability and abundant vigor.

Republican Knox Heads Navy in a Democratic Administration

FDR looks on for the second time in as many days as a Republican is sworn in as a member of his cabinet. This time it's Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, who is taking the oath of office of Secretary of the Navy before Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter.

State Home Rule Issue, Says Bailey

Jonesboro Speeches in Advance of His Formal Campaign

JONESBORO — Gov. Carl E. Bailey made little reference to his address at Walcott Thursday night but said that "as far as the people are concerned, the big question in the next few weeks is whether or not we shall control our own state affairs or have this control coerced at long range from without the state."

He said this question probably will transcend all others growing out of the highway refunding issue.

The governor made two appearances in this section Thursday. One at a fish and civic club entertainment at Black Oak and another at the Highway 141 Association's road completion celebration at Walcott, in the Crowley Ridge State park.

He said he was making no political speech at either place but asserted that "the people will have an opportunity to express their approval or disapproval of the administration of their business at the polls on August 13."

"There is hardly a phase of life in Arkansas which this administration has not touched in some helpful way," the governor said. "We have not stood by idle, dumb and insensitive to problems which concern the people."

"We have provided a solution for all these problems with the exception of the vexing problem of the state highway indebtedness. We offered a solution for that and it would have been in operation today except for the fact that the Supreme Court, by a vote of 4 to 3, nullified the emergency clause, which would have placed the refunding program in operation immediately."

"This meant that the law would not go into operation for 90 days. During that period a referendum petition was circulated, providing that the refunding program be voted upon by the people in the November election."

"At that time you will have an opportunity to express your approval or disapproval of the solution that this administration offered for the highway indebtedness problem."

He emphasized the condition of state finances, saying the state's credit had been restored fully as shown by the fact that Arkansas bonds are selling up to and above par.

Most of the governor's speech was a running account of the beneficial activities of his administration.

Holly Springs Host to Nevada Convention

J. W. Holloway of Rosston announced Friday that the Nevada county singing convention will be held at Holly Springs church, six miles south of Rosston, Sunday July 14.

The public is invited.

Roosevelt Is Not to Attend Convention

WASHINGTON —(P)—President Roosevelt said at his press conference Friday he definitely would not go to Chicago to attend the Democratic convention but again avoided every question designed to bring about a disclosure of his third term stand.

Grandparents Are Murdered by Boy

Fayetteville Youth, 15, Alleged to Have Confessed

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—(P)—Sheriff Herbert Lewis announced Friday that a 15-year-old boy had confessed slaying his aged grandparents as he worked in a field and garden at their modest farm in Rhea's Mill community, 20 miles southwest of Fayetteville, Thursday.

The grandfather, Sam Stewart, 74, was found slain in a corn field early Thursday night.

The body of Mrs. Stewart, 71, was not discovered until Friday morning.

The boy, listed as Gerald Stewart, offered no motive.

Hope, Rosston Boys Enlist in the Army

The following enlistments have been announced by the Texarkana recruiting office of the United States Army: Raybon Kindrick, of Hope, assigned to the field artillery at Camp Ord, Calif.

Doyle Dillard, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dillard, Rosston Route One, also assigned to the field artillery at Camp Ord.

That west coast gent pole-vaulted 15 feet again. A few more hours on the air and he'll qualify for his plot's license.

Weisenberger in Legislative Race

Seeks Re-Election to Hempstead County No. 2 Post

Royce Weisenberger announced in the political announcement column of today's Star that he would be a candidate for re-election to the No. 2 legislative post from Hempstead county. His formal statement follows:

"To the voters of Hempstead county: 'Believing that an incumbent should promptly declare his political intentions, I became the first candidate to file for state representative. In an attempt to make certain a compliance with amendment 29 to the constitution adopted in the November 1938, general election, the state and county Democratic central committees assembly into Post No. 1 and Post No. 2.

"My present colleague, John P. Vese, who is now serving his second term, did not choose to seek re-election. Consequently, being the younger member of my delegation and now serving my first term, I filed for Post No. 2 to succeed myself."

"I am a member of the officers reserve corps of the U. S. army, and on June 25 was ordered by the War Department to report for active duty with the Army in which capacity I am now engaged as an army officer and instructor at the CMTC at Camp Joseph T. Robinson. This will necessarily prevent my personally contacting many of you, but I am confident that in these trying times you will consider the reason for my not making the extensive campaign I made in 1938 as a worthy one. It has been suggested that the fact that I hold myself ready to serve the nation in a military emergency might adversely affect my candidacy. With this I cannot agree, for I feel certain that you will commend rather than condemn those who feel their sacred duty to bear arms if, the need should ever arise, in defense of the United States."

"I desire to express my heartfelt appreciation to you for the vote you gave me in 1938, and to thank my many loyal friends and supporters for the splendid efforts they have been and are now exerting in my behalf. I shall strive to continue to merit their confidence in both my public and

Notice

The Roy Franks named in Hope municipal court proceedings last Monday afternoon in a charge filed by M. S. Bates was a negro, and was not Roy Franks of Guernsey, Mr. Bates has asked The Star to say.

In another "same-name" case in municipal court the defendant's name was also that of a local 14-year-old boy. The Star declines to make any statement in this second case, since the newspaper does not ordinarily publish names of minors involved with the police, and the party mentioned therefore couldn't have been the 14-year-old boy.

Army Chiefs Back Bill to Recruit 930,000 by Oct. 1

Number in Training
Would Be 1 1/2 Millions by April

BILLION DOLLARS

But Cost After First Year Would Drop
to 3/4 Billion

WASHINGTON —(P)—War department official told the senate military committee Friday the army would have 930,000 men in training by October 1 if congress enacted a compulsory military training bill.

Col. H. L. Twaddle, the department's training expert, testified this number would increase to 1,415,000 by April next year. He estimated the cost of the training program at $1,000,000,000 the first year, and about $750,000,000 each succeeding year.

Twaddle appeared before the committee with Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff and other high-ranking officers, to endorse, subject to some changes, the Burke-Wadsworth compulsory training bill.

Marshall testified he favored calling out the National Guard "immediately" for training.

Cantaloupes Start Moving, Blevins

Bumper Crop Expected to Be Shipped This Season

Lonnie Brooks, of Blevins announced Friday that shipments of cantaloupes had already started in that section and are expected to be in full swing not later than July 15.

Pieces so far are holding up well and one bushel will bring 75 cents.

Mr. Brooks cautioned the farmers to be careful in picking the first cantaloupes and be sure to get three-fourths of the full slips.

Over 100 truckloads were moved from the Blevins area last year and as good or better crop is expected this season.

A Man Who Likes to Bother, Provided He Collects on It

AP Feature Service

INDIANAPOLIS — Why Bother, Inc., makes money by doing just that for customers who don't want to.

Richard T. Miskimen, 29, president, Secretary-treasurer and all the vice presidents calls the new business a "thoroughly diversified personal service."

His prospectus, on the kind of fine bond paper ordinarily reserved for wedding invitations, tells just how diversified. Why Bother offers, for a price, to:

- Shop, mail Christmas cards, sit up with baby, put the cat out or mow the grass.
- Answer the telephone, remind you of a luncheon date, meet a train or hold your place in line outside a crowded moving picture theater.
- Get you a servant, an errand boy, a ticket to a show, a ticket to Oshkosh, publicity, flowers or a drink, and.
- Plan a party or write you a speech.

"We will be happy to do, and will do, the letter sweepingly sums up, 'anything for you at any time.'"

Miskimen, a University of Illinois man and an ex-newspaper reporter, says his friends forced him into business.

"I got tired of doing things for people and not getting paid for it," he explains. He has a one-room office, a full-time stenographer, an errand boy, three unemployed college men and some 20 servants on call.

Miskimen's biggest job was rubbing out a woodpecker that was waking up a suburban neighborhood every dawn. A man with a shotgun went out three mornings before he killed the bird. The fee was $2.

How does he like his work? "I'm havin' a riot!" Miskimen chortles.

The American national debt has increased $20,428,000,000 since 1933.

Does Gold Rust?
One of the properties of gold is that it does not rust.
So the chemist will tell you.
But there may be another side to that. If to rust is to deteriorate, to waste away, to disintegrate, perhaps even gold will rust.
The United States now has $20-$25,000,000 worth of gold. That is between 70 and 80 per cent of all the gold in the world. The last billion has been accumulated since mid-
May.
As this hoard accumulates, so interest mounts as to what to do with
it. Monetary experts disagree.
Some say we are rapidly approaching the day when this gold will be useless as money. If one country has it all, or practically all, it seems clear that others must find a means of conducting trade without it. Already German papers like the Deutsche Bergwerkszeitung are saying,
"The gold standard has for us only historical interest."
That is not altogether correct. Already the gold standard is the standard currency of the whole continent of Europe. Because it is not traded in international dealings, one may say that the mark is good throughout all Europe (and it has) then it is not worthless. And if barter dealing and economic pressure can make it good in other far-away places, then it is not worthless there, either.
It is becoming increasingly clear to more and more people that gold is useless unless it is used. So the Republican platform has suggested its distribution, at home and abroad. The Democratic declaration is, of course not yet available.
But if the United States is to compete in international trade after Europe's war is over, it is clear that there must be countries whose money bears a recognizable relationship to our own, so that exchange is possible.
Every passing month points more clearly to the idea of distributing part of this gold to countries whose trade and friendship is sought and whose money can thus be put in relation with our own. We do not want to set up a monetary bloc with the bayonet.
But we must not much longer refuse to use that old money peaceful weapon, our own surplus gold stock.
We should put it to work where there is still strength in it, before that rustless metal has rusted away in a manner that not the chemist but the economist may understand.
An area one mile square can be scented by three drops of skunk musk.

Middle-aged people are forever warning young people, particularly young girls, to listen to their heads instead of their hearts.
Such a warning recently was handed out to girl graduates of a Brooklyn high school by Supreme Court Justice Thomas J. Cliff. "The ceremony takes no longer to marry a man with a job and a future than it does to marry one not so equipped," said the Supreme Court Justice to the girls.

Mrs. Dick Watkins Is Hostess to Members of the Bridge Club

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Dick Watkins entertained the members of the Thursday bridge club and several guests at her home on East Second.

Three tables were arranged for the players in the attractive reception rooms that were decorated with myriads of summer flowers. After several games, the high score prize was awarded to Mrs. Billy Bob Herndon.

The guests included Mrs. William Duckett, Mrs. R. V. Herndon Jr., Mrs. Vincent Foster, Mrs. Leonard Ellis, and Mrs. Royce Smith.

A delicious ice salad was served at the conclusion of the games.

Althean Class of the First Baptist Sunday School Is Entertained

Thirty members were present for the monthly business and social meeting of the Althean Sunday school class of the First Baptist church. The country home of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Cook formed the setting for the delightful affair.

Small tables were arranged on the lawn, where a picnic supper was served, after which the business of the class was discussed. Mrs. H. E. Thrush, the president of the class presided.

The evening was spent playing a number of enjoyable games.

McAlister-Burkey

The marriage of Miss Mary Frances Burkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Burkey of Hope, and Thomas Jewell McAlister, son of Mrs. Grace McAlister of Alma, was quietly solemnized Saturday afternoon, June 22, at the First Presbyterian church with the Rev. R. D. Adams, pastor, officiating. The immediately families of the couple and a few intimate friends were present. Mrs. Adams, organist, played the traditional wedding marches and "Liebestraum" during the service. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Burkey, wore a navy blue corded sheer trimmed in white lace with white accessories. Her corsage was of Sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. McAlister will live at 120 South Eighteenth street, Fort Smith, where the bridegroom is associated with the Williams Hardware Company. Out-of-town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Burkey of Hope, parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Steele McAlister of West Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McAlister and family of Alma.

Little Rock Will Meet Bruner Here

Worthern Banker's to Play 2 Games Here Saturday

The Worthern Bankers, crack softball team of Little Rock, will come to Hope Saturday night for a double header with the Bruner-Ivory team at Fair park at 7:30.

The Banker's have lost only two games this season and is considered one of the state's best teams.

Bruner defeated them in a close battle at Little Rock two weeks ago and the game Saturday is expected to be air-tight.

Worthern's ace speed ball artist, "Rookie" Moxley will be after revenge for the Little Rock defeat and is expected to hurl the first game. Ferguson and Taylor will be on the mound for Bruner.

The Bruner team shutout the Magnolia Oilers of Texarkana at Fair park Thursday night 3 to 0.

15 Hits Enable Little Rock to Take Series Lead

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Pounding away steadily the Little Rock Travelers pounded three pitchers for 15 hits and defeated the New Orleans Pelicans, 8 to 2, here Thursday night. It gave the Travelers a two-to-one lead in the series.

Bob Katz turned in a good pitching job in yielding 10 hits. The right-hander suffered only one bad inning that was the sixth when the Birds scored their two runs on three hits and an error. Katz never was in danger afterwards. He worked out of tough holes in the first and third innings.

The Travelers chased Pete Hader to the showers in the seventh. Bill McLaughlin, his left-handed successor, withdrew for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. Rowland Van Slate finished.

Catcher Tony Rensa led the Little Rock attack with four hits, Eddie Yount and Willie Duke got three each and Leroy Schalk obtained two, including a triple.

Chevrolet Sales Set June Record

New Car Sales for the Month Totaled 102,615

DETROIT—Chevrolet dealers' combined new and used car and truck sales set a new high during the month of June, W. E. Holler, general sales manager, announced here today. Records show that the selling organization delivered an average of 12,896 units each of the 25 working days in the month, for the tremendous total of 327,405.

Actual sales figures for the last 10 days of June and also for the month as a whole showed substantial increase over the same periods last year, and the final 10-day figure was 14.9 per cent higher than that for the previous period.

New car sales for the month totaled 102,615, passenger cars and trucks, Mr. Holler said, a gain of 35.6 per cent over June, 1939. In the final 10-day period, Chevrolet dealers retailed 40,435 new cars and trucks, a 36.6 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Increases were also registered in used car sales, he said, a total of 21,970 units being sold during the month. This represents a 40.1 per cent increase over June, 1939. In the final 10-day period 94,696 used cars were sold at retail, a figure 45 per cent ahead of the preceding 10 days and 59.5 per cent greater than the same period last year.

Of special significance, Mr. Holler said, is the fact that used car stocks were reduced by 42,249 units during the month of June. This large-volume reduction, he said, means that Chevrolet dealers are in position to offer new cars and trucks on terms especially advantageous to the buyer in July.

There were 1,377,792 revenue-paying passengers carried on U. S. airlines in 1939.

The United States has an estimated 250,000 aliens.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Faith in Life After Death Has Same Three Answers Today as in Ages Past

Text: Job 14:13-17; 17:13-16; 19:23-25

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D., Editor of Advance

In our lesson Job asks dramatically the great question that humanity has been asking all through the ages concerning the mystery of life and death—"If a man die, shall he live again?" Three answers have been given to that question in the course of the ages and are being given today.

The first answer is that of the materialists who say that this life is all, and that there is nothing after death. It seems strange that those who answer this question in the negative should think it worth while to speak and write extensively about it.

Surely there would seem to be no gospel or good news for man in persuading them that there is no soul life beyond the few years of earthly existence. If there be no life after death why be concerned about it at all? The whole thing will soon be over, so far as the individual is concerned.

The second answer is the answer given by spiritualists, who believe that there is evidence of life after death in communication in the spirit world with those who have departed this life. The value of the evidence offered varies greatly, but the fact that there has been much deceit and fraud does not justify the open-minded investigator in disregarding much evidence that is more impressive and that is not so easily explained away. Numbers of eminent men and some who were eminent scientists, trained to appraise cause and effect, have believed that immortality is demonstrated by spiritual phenomena.

The third answer is that of Christians, which finds in the words of Jesus Christ in the New Testament clear hope of immortality, although it should be emphasized that Christianity does not go beyond hope and faith to scientific demonstration. There is nothing really inconsistent with "The People Called Baptists in the World Today" will be the subject of the Pastor's sermon at the 10:55 Service Sunday morning. In this message he will pass on some impressions which came to him on his recent trip to Washington, Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia in which he attended the meetings of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Republican National Convention, visited the World's Fair, the Naval Academy at Annapolis, and talked with people in many walks of life concerning spiritual realities and international relations.

The Sunday school meeting at 9:45 provides interesting presentations of lessons from God's Word, in classes and departments suited to each age group.

"Present Your Passports" will be the Pastor's subject at the 8:00 o'clock Service Sunday evening. Some people will seek Heaven's refuge only to find they have neglected too long to provide themselves with the proper passports. If the reader of this newspaper notice is not absolutely sure that he or she has such passport a special invitation is extended to him or her to attend next Sunday Evening's Service at First Baptist church.

Christian faith in whatever demonstration of spiritualistic communication, although the field is one where there are many pitfalls and where there is much need for care against credulity or hasty conclusions. Jesus put the matter of faith and immortality in the realm of the things that one might take for granted. "In my father's house," He said, "are many mansions; if it were not so, I would have told you."

The real answer to the question is the answer of moral and spiritual life, and it may be noted that this was the answer that Job found to his question. He found satisfaction in the belief that there must be something permanent and dependable. He speaks of his Redeemer living and standing at the last day upon earth. The word "Redeemer" is sometimes translated as "Vindicator," and it implies the conception of warrant for moral living.

What essential difference between good and evil can we believe in, if there is nothing abiding or permanent in the universe or human life? If decay and death are the end of all that is living, what place is there for the hope and faith that are at the very foundation of moral and spiritual being?

The closing words of our lesson are: "That ye may know there is a judgment." What place is there for judgment, if this life is all; and how baffling and utterly subversive of moral convictions would judgment be, if there is no abiding and permanent spiritual reality with which human life is inseparably associated?

To see the wicked prospering while the good and the innocent suffer, often because of their conscientiousness is to feel that one is in a topsy-turvy world, unless there is some vindication of truth and right that roots in some deeper spiritual reality than is found in the short span of man's life on earth from the cradle to the grave.

Elsie, the 'Oomph Cow,' Ready to Mow Down All Hollywood in Triumphant Moxie Debut

HOLLYWOOD — By this time you probably have heard that Elsie, the bovine queen, is coming to Hollywood to appear in a picture. News of such a startling import travels at the rate of 183,000 miles a second—the speed of radio.

But until you have been exposed to the enthusiasms of Gene Towne and Graham Baker, the triumphant team of Hollywood producers, you couldn't possibly appreciate the stunning aspects of this super-coup—the signing of Elsie, the oomph cow, for the featured role of Buttercup in "Little Men."

On a busy afternoon in the headquarters of the executives at RKO, while Director Norman McLeod and the script writers awaited a conference and mere human actors cooled their heels outside, your correspondent listened to the saga of Elsie.

Bathing Suit Is Problem

She'll make the trip here from the New York fair in a private railroad car and with an entourage of grooms, veterinarian, press agent, and the CCC and soil conservation program.

Advocating placing qualified personnel in charge of the state's institutions, Adkins also said he proposed to replace the present boys' industrial school with a training school.

Pointing out that the average government grant to states for old age pensions was $10 a month while Arkansas received only $3.75 from the federal agency, Adkins said:

"It is my purpose to do all in my power to have Arkansas placed on a plane with the average state and to secure appropriations from the social security board of at least $10 for each pensioner, in addition to the state appropriation. . . . Investigation leads me to believe that, without any tax increases, old age pensions in Arkansas can be doubled if the taxes are collected without any discrimination."

He voiced approval of the state library service; pledged cooperation to both labor and capital and said the people would decide at the November general election which type of workmen's compensation law they desired.

On the subject of general taxes, he declared:

"I do believe that if the taxes now levied are efficiently and honestly collected, and wisely and justly expanded, the state would have ample revenue for all its legitimate needs."

inary specialists hovering around her with stethoscopes. Aug. 8, it was agreed, would be the day of Elsie's announcement.

The Oomph Cow's friends in Hollywood will be able to arrange showers for her, and something pretty astonishing in the line of layettes will be forth-coming. Only disappointment to Towne and Baker is the sternly moral attitude taken by her milk company sponsors. No breath of scandal, such as a romance with Ferdinand, may curdle her reputation here, it's insisted, because she has a husband named Elmer buck east.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 30

Proposed by the General Assembly and filed in the office of the Secretary of State on 15th day of March 1939.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS AND MAJORITY OF BOTH HOUSES AGREEING THERETO:

That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and the same being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Senators and Representatives, if a majority of the electors voting thereon adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:

Section 1. Amendment No. 29 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby repealed.

Section 2. Vacancies in the office of the United States Senator, and in all elective state, district, circuit, county and township offices except those of Lieutenant Governor, Member of the General Assembly and Representative in the Congress of the United States, shall be filled by appointment by the Governor.

Section 3. The Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Acting Governor shall be ineligible for appointment to fill any vacancies occurring or any office or position created, and resignation shall not remove such ineligibility. Husband and wives of such officers, and relatives of such officers, within the fourth degree of consanguinity or affinity, shall likewise be ineligible.

Section 4. No person holding office contrary to this amendment shall be paid any compensation for his services. Any warrant, voucher or evidence of indebtedness issued in payment for such services shall be void.

Section 5. The appointee shall serve during the entire unexpired term in the office in which the vacancy occurs if such office would in regular election be filled at the next general election if no vacancy had occurred. If such office would not in regular course be filled at such next general election the vacancy shall be filled as follows: At the next general election, if the vacancy occurs four months or more prior thereto, and at the second general election after the vacancy occurs if the vacancy occurs less than four months before the next general election after it occurs. The person so elected shall take office on the 1st day of January following his election.

speak and to vote as they please without fear of losing the small amount of help they receive from the state."

Adkins said one of the "main objects" of his administration would be to "promote further development of (Arkansas) natural resources, to take greater advantage of the agricultural possibilities and to expand our industries."

He said the state would be able to gain from the current national defense program "by the cooperation which can be given by a governor who is not an overnight convert to the Democratic national administration."

The candidate said that if nominated he would appoint this fall "an educational committee composed of six of eight of the leading school people and laymen . . . who will give their time and thought to be preparing a detailed (school) program; and when their program is completed, I shall do all in my power to secure its adoption."

He blamed the financial situation of Arkansas educational system on "unjust diversion of school funds for other purposes; inefficiency in assessments and collection, both in ad valorem and special taxes; and because of improper budgeting and handling of expenditures of school funds." He said he would pledge:

"My service in improving the administration of the laws which govern the assessment, collection and distribution of school funds."

Teachers' Guarantee

Adkins asserted the state should "assume the responsibility of setting up a salary schedule whereby teachers of a certain training and experience will be guaranteed certain salaries." He also proposed to change the method of selecting the state textbook commission and state board of education, declaring present laws gave the governor "too much power over these agencies."

The candidate devoted much attention to an attack on Governor Bailey's $140,000 refunding measure which will be voted upon at the November general election. He proposed in its stead to provide for refunding with non-callable bonds pegged at a maximum of three per cent interest, giving maintenance a first lien on highway revenues. On the subject of road construction, he pledged cooperation with the U. S. Bureau of Roads.

Complaining that under the present setup that gave political control to the governor there was "no incentive for a man to make state police work his career," Adkins proposed a constitutional amendment "which will take the state police entirely out of politics."

"Under this plan," he said, "they will not have to 'pull their punches' for friends or 'bear down' on enemies. Also, they will be expected to coordinate their work with that of the sheriffs and other peace officers of the state."

The speaker devoted considerable attention to various phases of agriculture, criticizing Bailey for removing the prison farms from the AAA program and promising he would reinstate them.

He also expressed conviction that the agricultural extension service should be a "career service" and "let alone to do the job." He promised to seek permanence for the Arkansas livestock show and to cooperate with
